CLASS HISTORY

FRESHMAN

Starting our freshman year of high school the following thirty-eight members enrolled: Kirk Albright, Connie Amsbury, May Andrews, Shirley Barkley, Bill Brattain, Jim Burke, Kenneth Butler, Max Callahan, Robert Clevenger, Barbara Davis, Max Dill, Robert Doversberger, Ed Dybalski, Gary Erwin, Jerry Flick, Sandra Fuller, Stanley Hannah, Sandy Harper, Jaci Hawkins, Marita Hawkins, A. C. Hill, Larry Ingles, Judy Johnson, Allan Kendall, Tom Massey, John Montgomery, Keith Moon, Barbara Mullen, Judith Mundell, Linda Rakestraw, Jack Richter, Alice Rubush, Martha Rubush, Joe Scott, Alice Winner, Robert Wallpe, Marvin Woods, Phyllis Young.

Class officers elected were: president, Robert Doversberger; vice-president, Ed Dybalski; secretary and treasurer, Max Dill; historian, Phyllis Young; sponsor, Mrs. Kendall. The first semester we presented the "Hayloft Holiday" at the Halloween Carnival, went to the show "Ivanhoe", and Larry Ingles had a Christmas party for the class. In the spring we took a trip to Frankfort Park.

SOPHOMORE

The five new pupils who joined our class this year were: Bob Hankemier, Ted Wood, Larry Utterback, Mary Dragoo, and Sonjia Huffer. Alice Rubush, John Montgomery, A. C. Hill, Joe Scott, Barbara Mullen, Barbara Davis, Gary Erwin, and Max Callahan quit school. Our enrollment was then thirty-five. Sophomore class officers were: president, Tom Massey; vice-president, Max Dill; secretary and treasurer, Marvin Woods; historian, Phyllis Young. Mrs. Inman was appointed as class sponsor. Again the "Hayloft Holiday" was presented at the Halloween Carnival, and a check room was operated at the home ball games. The class enjoyed a Christmas party at the home of Phyllis Young. Class sweaters of black and white were purchased by members of the class. For a class project the group went to Indianapolis and saw the stage show, "The King and I".

JUNIOR

Our class lost only three members this year: Ted Wood, Martha Rubush, and Keith Moon. Officers for the year were: president, Bill Brattain; vice-president, Max Dill; treasurer, Judy Johnson; secretary, Marvin Woods; historian, Phyllis Young, and Mr. Shipley was appointed as sponsor. Shiny, gold class rings that were ordered the previous spring were received in September. Projects were a "Hayloft Frolic" at the Halloween Carnival, concession stand, magazine sales, and the class play, "Great Scotts". A trip to Indianapolis, where we visited the W.F.B.M. - T.V. studio, War Memorial, Star newspaper building, Blind School, ended with the choice of two movies, "Davy Crockett", and "The Glass Slipper".

SENIOR

Our last year of high school twenty-nine seniors proudly walked through the Sharpsville School Building. We gained a new girl, Mary Bolin, and lost Shirley Barkley and Linda Rakestraw. Class officers for this year were: president, Bill Brattain; vice-president, Max Dill; treasurer, Judy Johnson; secretary, Marvin Woods; historian, Phyllis Young and Mr. Fernung, sponsor. The play, "Papa Says No", a canteen at the Halloween Carnival and sale of Christmas cards were projects for the year. On April 21, twenty-four seniors started on their trip to New York and Washington. Baccalaureate was May 6 and Commencement, May 8.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECIES

As the spaceship, "The Pioneer," prepared for take-off, a group of people assembled on the ramp. Upon further observation they were found to be the Class of 1956 who had gathered that 8th day of May, 1966, the tenth anniversary of their graduation, to launch the first mass flight to Mars. The earliest to arrive was Sonjia Huffer, now Mrs. Eugene Smith, who held the hand of a small red-haired boy. She gave last minute instructions to her husband about the care of her lovely twenty room farm house just south of Sharpsville, and greeted a young lady in a snappy uniform carrying a doctor's kit. This was Mary Drago, a graduate nurse, who had devoted her full time caring for the sick in Bellevue.

As they visited, they were joined by a third person, Sandi Fuller, who since graduation had worked her way up to director of personnel at the Stellite in Kokomo.

Sonjia was first to notice the arrival of Jerry Flick and wife, nee Judith Mundell, who have lived in California since Jerry's discharge from the Marines. Being the only ones fully qualified for the job, they were selected as the chaperones for the exploration.

One of our outstanding aeronautical engineers, Max Dill, strode toward the ramp with his lovely wife. Since graduation he has devoted his life to the service of our country.

The group's attention was drawn next by a very well dressed young woman, Sandy Harper. Since opening her dress shop in California, she has been engaged in distributing the newest fashions to the women of the United States.

As she stopped to chat, Mrs. Jaci Ball arrived. Jaci has built a reputation for professional twirling and instruction since '56. Her most promising student was Lari Ann, her daughter, who won many honors in twirling contests in the United States.

The crowd was hailed by Ed Dybalski and Jack Richter who had set up a sporting goods store in Florida immediately after their return from the Navy, and with the aid of their wives built it into a very successful chain store.

All trussed up in a jet ace's duds, Tom Marsey swaggered to the ramp in a typical Texas walk. Tom had gained fame for his courage in testing the Navy's jet planes, and though a handsome and eligible male, he still remains single.

Alice Winner was given a hearty welcome as she approached the ramp. Working at Delco since graduation, she was still undecided about which boy she wanted to marry.

A distinguished gentleman who had studied foreign languages in France was back in his old home state to teach the many different languages. He was known to us as Robert Doversberger.

A crowd of teen-age girls demanding autographs, rushed toward a handsome young man. For two years Bob Clevenger has been one of the most popular singers in America.

The former Phyllis Young breathlessly arrived with her husband in tow, all the while greeting her friends. Phyllis, always fond of children, taught the third grade at Lincoln in Kokomo for a few years.

A tall, distinguished young man carrying a medicine bag came striding toward the rocket. Shouts of "Hi, Marv!" greeted Dr. Woods, the most outstanding veterinarian in Indiana, who became famous with his cure for pigeon distemper.

Bill Brattain, who has been a sports announcer in Florida for about three years, seemed to be reluctant to leave his family and friends, but he was to be in charge of relaying messages back to Earth from Mars.

Mrs. Raleigh Cassidy, the former May Andrews, told her classmates all about her new home in Kokomo and her two lovely children. May, since her graduation, had devoted her time to being a model wife and mother.

A petite blonde with a bright sunny smile entered the rocket after she bade her husband and two children good-bye. Marita Hawkins had devoted the last ten years to making her husband, now a college professor, happy; being a den mother for her son's Boy Scout Troop; and teaching her daughter's Sunday School Class.

Someone shouted, and the attention of the group fell upon a neat appearing man who stood on the ramp ready to enter the ship. Stanley Hannah had been a very successful farmer since graduating.

Jim Burke and his wife were surrounded by Jim's classmates who wanted to hear his account of life in the Navy, as he had just returned from the service.

Larry Ingels, the "king" of used car dealers in the Hoosier State was anxious to take off because this was to be his first vacation since graduation.

Kirk Albright, a wallpaper and paint dealer, drove down from Kokomo to join the flight. Kirk told his friends that he had led a quiet life in Kokomo with his wife and two children.

Rev. Kenneth Butler came quietly up to join the class and greeted them warmly. After graduation he served four years as Chaplain in the army, and painted during his spare time.

Allan Kendall stood off to one side discussing the particulars of TV with his assistant. Allan, vice-president of CBS-TV had been working for improvements in telecasting of video for his network and so he found no time for marriage.

Now the attention of the crowd focused on a small lady in a smartly tailored suit, Judy Johnson, who had spurned romance for a career of teaching a commercial course in Sharpsville High School. Though she was offered a job in one of Indiana's leading universities, she refused in favor of her present work.

A very good looking young man, surrounded by a group of admiring teen-age girls, tried to break away to board the ship. This was Bob Walpe who won national fame pitching for the Cleveland Indians.

The former Connie Amsbury and Mary Bolin arrived together and were immediately asked many questions about their modest homes and families, which they were loathe to leave.

SENIOR CLASS WILL

Whereas, We, The Seniors, of Sharpville High School are about to set forth on our journey into adult life, and;

Whereas, such has been a long established tradition;

We do herewith publish and proclaim the following to be our last will and testament as of the eighth day of May of the year one thousand nine hundred and fifty-six.

I, Kirk Albright, will to Dave Rubush my ability to handle foreign affairs (out of town girls), and a slightly used DeSoto to anyone interested.

I, Connie Amsbury, will to Sharlot Underwood the ability to keep her hair long, and to Leland Rush my seat in the assembly.

I, May Andrews, will the right to have any job she wants in the cafeteria to Pauline Barkley.

I, Jaci Ball, will to Jim Peters the right to be late to school and get away with it, and the privilege of having the biggest feet in class to any girl who can acquire the growth.

I, Mary Bolen, will to Vera Kelly my ability to catch Max Scott and to Lenora Snoderly my ability to get along with Don Johnson.

I, Bill Brattain, will my seat on the Varsity bench to Terry Lorts and a beat up Ford, with the ability to make twenty-five minute trips to Logansport, to Larry Woods.

I, Jim Burke, will to my little brother Larry the privilege of owning a car at sixteen and to Dave Adkinson my track ability.

I, Kenneth Butler, will to Donnie Edmonds my worn out Senior cords and to Ronald Dunham my talent (which he will have to find for himself).

I, Robert Clevenger, will to Bill Head my golden voice and my winning personality to Vera Kelly.

I, Max Dill, will to Jerry Scott my ability to attract the opposite sex and my faithful companion, Duke, to Larry Utsler.

I, Robert Doversberger, will my ability to remember useless bits of information to Jim Wilson and my fondness of large books to Bill Smith.

I, Mary Dragoo, will my ability in typing to Herbert Off and the right to do the teachers' typing to Diana Snow.

I, Edward Dybalski, will to Paul Evans the money I don't have and my intense dislike of college boys to anyone interested.

I, Jerry Flick, will my good looks and my driving ability to Bob Blessing and my super muscles to my little brother Junior.

I, Sandi Fuller, will my extremely short hair cut to Dessie Goley and to Thurman Pierson the ability to make friends with all the teachers.

I, Stanley Hannah, will my abundance of freckles to Larry Vanosdol and my perfect school attendance to P. D. Quirk.

I, Sandra Harper, will to Carolyn Warner the right to hear all choice bits of information and to Virginia Henderson the right to talk all the time.

I, Marita Hawkins, will to Mina Lou Reeder the right to control her class opinions and the ability to disagree with the class president's views.

I, Sonjia Huffer, will my worn out Government book to my brother Allen and to Sherry Richey the right to drive her boy friend's car.

I, Larry Ingles, will to Ronald Schrader the ability to keep his Chevrolet in tip-top condition and to John Fernung the right to be in command.

I, Judy Johnson, will to Roseann Widup the right to occupy, upon my departure from S.H.S., my first chair in band and to Sonne Peters the right to use office practice as an excuse to leave the assembly.

I, Allan Kendall, will to Gary D. three boxes of burnt out T.V. tubes and a worn manuscript from the Chicago Television Training Institute.

I, Tom Massey, will to Gary Kelley one Texas drawl and my address book to Forth Worth, assuming that he will some day travel to my lone star paradise.

I, Judy (chief garbage slinger) Mundell, will to Sharon Hale my position as plate scraper in the Cafeteria and to Patty Buckley my friendliness.

I, Jack Richter, will to Jonell Jarrett the one corner of my desk she hasn't already taken over and to Dave Little my ability with the opposite sex.

I, Bob Wallpe, will my inability to get along with fellow ballplayers to Perry Cole.

I, Alice Winner, will to anyone who may want it, one worn out, dirty, white apron to wear when she works in the Cafeteria.

I, Marvin Woods, will to Bob Saul my seat on the bench and my job as editor of the Sharpvue to Raymond Winner.

I, Phyllis Young, will to Max Scott, in order that he might defend himself next year at the ballgames, my vocabulary.
